1. Background

- 1.1 Department of Health and Family Welfare (DoHFW), Government of West Bengal (GoWB) has taken initiatives to strengthen the health and medical care services in the state. The purpose of these initiatives is to improve the health status of the poor and vulnerable population in the state.
- 1.2 One such initiative that the department already identified for implementation was establishment of Diagnostic Facilities in the Rural Hospitals (RH)/ upgraded BPHCs under Public Private Partnership (PPP). The objective of this initiative was to ensure greater access of the people to quality diagnostic services at affordable cost.

2. Rationale for Public Private Partnerships (PPP) in health care

- 2.1 Public Private Partnership is a successful mechanism for providing quality health care at relatively low cost.
- 2.2 Currently the situation is one of dearth. In most of the Block Primary Health Centres /Rural Hospitals, only tests for malaria and sputum AFB are done. Facility of X-Ray is available in some RHs. A limited number of RHs conduct only a very basic repertoire of other tests. As a result, doctors at these institutions have little choice other than that of referring patients to private sector diagnostic centres or do without the much-needed tests. This practice creates a problem in introducing proper treatment protocol in time. Moreover, the private sector diagnostic centres being un-regulated have grown sporadically and high prices along with uncertain quality remain serious concerns not only for the referring doctors but also for the patients.
- 2.3 Considering the existing situation, there is a dire need for adequately equipped diagnostic facilities in RHs / BPHCs. Being proactive to such a requirement, the Government has now decided to set up diagnostic laboratories at all the RHs / upgraded BPHCs in the state through PPP involving interested private providers and NGOs.
- 2.4 Some of the perceived benefits of PPP for private partner would be availability of ready infrastructure, lower initial investment, reduced business risk and more importantly a sizeable client base. For the public sector, the perceived benefits would be improved access to better quality diagnostic services to the masses, reduction in fixed costs on diagnostic services and better utilization of resources for the poor. As far as benefits to the community are concerned, PPP would increase accessibility to improved quality of diagnostic services at low cost while for the BPL patients, the improved quality diagnostic tests would be available free of cost.

3. Policy Context

- 3.1 Department of Health and Family Welfare, Government of West Bengal in the Policy Statement of The Health Sector Strategy 2004-2013, have committed to work on developing partnership with private sector and NGOs, Civil Society Group etc. In addition, DoHFW has also adopted its PPP policy by issuing relevant Government Order in January 2006.
- 3.2 The policy document of DoHFW issued in January 2006 for Public Private Partnership in West Bengal outlines specific areas for PPP in West Bengal at the Primary Health Care Level and this includes partnering with private players to set up and operate a network of Diagnostic Centres in the state covering all the BPHCs/RHs with appropriate range of diagnostic services on a fee for service basis with a safety net for the poor.

- 3.3 Paradigm shift related to private sector involvement as mentioned above, initiated by GoWB in the health sector, is in conformity with the National Policy Framework of Public Private Partnerships as mentioned in the National Health Policy 2002 and National Population Policy 2000.

4. Evidence of Diagnostic facilities with Public Private Partnerships

1. In Madhya Pradesh, the Rogi Kalyan Samity of Indore District Hospital (a registered society) outsourced high end diagnostic services from private providers who are allowed to set up within the hospital premises and allowed to charge fees as agreed with the society which are substantially lower than the market rates.
2. Medicare Relief Society of SMS Medical College and Hospital Jaipur has leased out space within the hospital to a private operator for CT Scan services where service charges are a fraction of market prices.
3. DoHFW, GoWB has already established diagnostic facilities in 53 Rural Hospitals / upgraded BPHCs in West Bengal under PPP till September 2009.
4. A Modern Diagnostic Unit is being set up under PPP in Gandhi Memorial Hospital, Kalyani.
5. DoHFW, GoWB has also established facilities of CT Scan in seven Medical College & Hospitals and MRI in one Medical College and Hospital in the state under PPP. Seven more MRI Units under PPP are coming up in seven Medical College and Hospitals.
6. CT Scan Units are also being set up in 12 District Hospitals under PPP, four of which have already started functioning.

5. Goal, Principles and Expected Results

5.1 Goal:

To establish a cost effective centres for diagnostic facilities at Block Primary Health Centres /Rural Hospitals based on assessment of the local communities' needs and available resources.

5.2 Principles: The model has been designed on the following principles:

- i) Cost effectiveness: For sustainable partnership, the diagnostic centre must be viable and at the same time affordable.
- ii) Comprehensive coverage: Services must cover all the basic categories of standard diagnostic tests like pathology, clinical pathology, bio-chemical, haematological, microbiological, serological and radiological.
- iii) Acceptable Quality: The operating procedures prescribed by the Government, must be followed for good quality testing accompanied with compliance monitoring and timely reporting.
- iv) Upward and Downward Linkage: Non standard and special tests to be made available through seamless linkages with designated referral laboratory. Similarly, samples for testing would also be collected from PHCs via collection centre.

5.3 Expected Results: The following results are expected:

- i) Speedier diagnosis, reduced incidence of complications due to delays in diagnosis.
- ii) Improved ability of the public health system to respond to health needs of the people.
- iii) Increased confidence of the community in public health services and improved utilisation of Rural Hospital /Block Primary Health Centres services.
- iv) Increased access of people to improved quality of diagnostic services at affordable costs.
- v) Reduction in upstream treatment costs of complicated conditions resulting in financial savings to the government, which can be channelled to preventive healthcare.
